Detailed information on each day or excursion

1 Day Barranc de Biniaraix (Tramuntana):

On this trip we make our way along one of the most historical and best preserved ancient stone paved tracks in the whole of the mountain range of Tramuntana. In times gone by, it was the principal transit route between Soller and Escorca, providing access to the fertile valleys of Cuber, Almallutx and Orient. The track runs along the gorge of Biniaraix or l'Ofre, and in the rainy season we will have water running besideus for a lengthy part of the day.

2 Day Alqueria Vella-Betlem (Nature Park of Llevant):

The very beautiful and ancient tracks far from the crowds take us past old properties lost in time, dating from mediaeval Majorca such as the hermitage S'Hermita de Betlem or the old estate S'Alqueria Vella. The path is no more than half a metre wide for most of the way, with very impressive views out over the Bay of Alcudia. The day's tour ends right by the sea, where we will enjoy a well-earned typical Majorcan picnic.

3 Day Tossals Verds (Tramuntana):

We start our hike right in the heart of the Sierra de Tramuntana on another ancient track leading to the valley of Almallutx from Alaró, passing through the public access lands around Tossals Verds. During the walk we will pass by the popular mountain hostel of Tossals Verds, one of the most authentic such refuges on the island.

4 Day Es Farrutx (Nature Park of Llevant):

The walk today climbs up one of the most attractive and typical mountains in the eastern range of the Sierra de Llevant, called Farrutx, which offers spectacular views over a large part of the island. It is a landmark with a curious shape and has lent its name to one of the local wines grown on Majorca, certified local produce, with a picture of the mountain on the label.

5 Day Camí de s'Arxiduc (Tramuntana):

The archduke Ludwig Salvator of Austria was a great driving force behind the development of natural tourism on Majorca. Proof of this can be found in the numerous viewpoints and tracks located all through the area between Valldemossa and Deia, which he had built in order to enjoy the mountains and nature on the island.

6 Day s'Esquena Llarga (Nature Park of Llevant):

This trip is the perfect combination of mountains and white sandy beaches with clear turquoise water. We start in S'Alqueria Vella, walking up the "Camí dels Presos" ("the Prisoners' Path"), an old path built by republican prisoners in the Spanish Civil War that is used by
